

Carlo Alviggi, M.D., Ph.D.

Dr. Alviggi graduated from the University of Naples “Federico II” in Medicine and Surgery in 1994 in Italy. In 1998, he obtained the specialization in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at the same university. In 1998, he was registered with the UK General Medical Council and completed professional training at the Reproductive Medicine Unit, Imperial College London, Hammersmith Hospital. In 2002 he earned his Ph.D. title.

His research activities involved participation in multicentre prospective randomized studies (including phase II and phase III trials) concerning the issues of controlled ovarian stimulation, etc.

Dr. Alviggi has published over 130 scientific articles in national and international journals, of which 50 are indexed by the ISI Web of Knowledge: total Impact Factor: 120.451, average Impact Factor 3.650. He authored 10 book chapters and is a frequent reviewer of many scientific journals. He participated in 107 meetings, congresses and symposia, of which about 42 were international, as invited speaker and/or moderator and was involved in the organization of several meetings abroad.

Since 2008, dr. Carlo Alviggi has been Editor Board Member of the Italian Society of Reproduction’s journal Repronews. In 2011, he was appointed Society Delegate for the elaboration of the project entitled “The Reproductive Health Report – The state of sexual and reproductive health within the European Union”. He is a member of ESHRE and European Society for Gynaecological Endoscopy.