

Shahar Kol, M.D.

Prof. Shahar Kol graduated from the Faculty of Medicine, Technion – Israel Institute of Technology, Haifa, Israel (Cum Laude). Residency in OB/GYN, Rambam Health Care Campus, Haifa, Israel. Fellowship in Reproductive Endocrinology at the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Baltimore School of Medicine, University of Maryland, Baltimore, MD, under the mentorship of Professor Eli Y Adashi. Director of IVF Unit, Rambam Health Care Campus, Haifa, Israel until 2017, and currently Director of IVF Unit, Elisha Hospital, Haifa, the largest IVF program in Northern Israel. He has authored or co-authored numerous publications and book chapters in the field of Reproductive Endocrinology and IVF, co-founder of the Copenhagen GnRH agonist trigger interest group.