

MUDr. Eliška Lacková, PhD

MUDr. Lacková completed her university studies in 2010 at the Faculty of Medicine Comenius University in Bratislava. Since 2010, she worked at the 4th Department of Internal Medicine of the University Hospital in Bratislava and the Department of Heart Failure and Transplantation of NÚSCH a.s. Bratislava. In 2014, she passed the board exam in Internal Medicine and supplemented her education with a dissertation exam. Since 2014, she worked at the 1st Clinic of Gynaecology and Obstetrics of the Slovak Medical University at the University Hospital in Bratislava and as a university teacher at the SMU in Bratislava. She currently works at GYN-FIV, a.s. – Centre for Gynaecology, Urology and Assisted Reproduction in Bratislava. Dr. Lacková is the author of publications in professional journals. She actively participates in domestic and international congresses focused on assisted reproduction and prenatal medicine.